

THE TEACHERS' GUILD OF NEW SOUTH WALES

The Teachers' Guild of New South Wales was founded in 1892 and is the oldest professional association of educators in Australia.

The Guild exists to promote and further the cause of education generally and to consider all questions affecting the status and interests of the teaching profession. It takes no part in matters of an industrial nature.

Over the years the Guild characterised its core value as The Care of Education. Without abandoning that essential concern, today the Guild's logo reads Doceo ut discam: I teach, that I might learn, and seeks to express a commitment to continued professional learning

The Guild seeks to promote its core values and to assist the teaching profession by a range of activities:

- The maintenance of professional standards in Education.
- The conduct of an annual award to identify and reward early career teachers.
- The annual presentation of an award recognising a Research-based contribution to improved classroom practice.
- The annual award of a scholarship to a teacher in training
- An Annual Conference.
- Offering other opportunities for professional learning or socialising
- The biennial publication of our journal The Proceedings of the Teachers' Guild of New South Wales.
- The administration of the Gurney Soubeyran Trust, which provides financial assistance for aged and needy teachers.
